

Face to Face Book: Discover the Secrets of Everyone You Think You Know, and Anyone You'd Like to Know Better

Socializing is the new social media Face to Face Book is packed with over 600 questions to help you learn more about yourself, the people you know, and all the people you want to know better. There is nothing more satisfying than a really good conversation. Those are the times with our friends and family that we always enjoy the most. But have you noticed how we often talk about the same things? How much do we really know about each other? And how often do we think about our own lives in any detail? Sometimes its good to ask something new. If people were to criticize you behind your back, what do you think they would say? Some questions in this book are great for self-discovery and personal growth. They will encourage you to think and reflect. They go beyond the surface. They explore the day to day business of life, and they also explore our dreams for the future and our memories of the past. Other questions are simple and fun. But all the questions are answerable and easy to share. They are about real life. Your life, and the people around you. What do you really know about the people you think you know? What pets did your mother have when she was a child? What posters did your friends hang on their bedroom walls? What did your grandfather do for a living? Are your friends happy? - Youll never know, if you dont ask! - Even simple questions are interesting. We want to hear the answers because other peoples lives are interesting to us. However, we dont ask questions because we are afraid well seem to be nosy. Yet people enjoy talking about their lives the problem is they are never asked! Its a social stalemate. Parents and grandparent often say they want to write their life story. This is an expression of the inner urge to share lifes experiences and wisdom. People desperately want to talk they want to tell their stories. So why not ask them? This book gives you the freedom to ask questions, and invites people to talk Face to Face Book can be used anywhere a conversation can be held. Perfect for any journey, these questions can be taken with you on holiday, enjoyed at home on the sofa, or used at the table when dining with friends. This fun book provides perfect entertainment when you have to spend all day on the motorway and don't want to run out of conversation. Everyone can join in. Get to know the people you are travelling with. You can use the book at a hospital bedside, or even over the phone. Really get to know your friends, your family, newcomers, and your extended family. Bring this book out at Christmas or any other social event. - You'll never again need to worry what you'll find to talk about. - People are interesting All you have to do is ask About The Author Ted Jones is a writer based in a small cottage in southern England. He lives with his wife, and the inevitable writer's cat, halfway between London and the sea.
