

100 Things for Kids to Do Instead of Watching Television

Television is an easy way to stay occupied, but it doesn't breed creativity. In our house, the kids don't watch TV - it just isn't an option. There is the occasional movie, but even that happens less than once a month. We've learned how to spend time in other ways, and hopefully this list will help you do the same. Enthusiasm is key. Projects and activities will appeal to toddlers and even tweens, but not every project is for every age group. There are over 100 ideas presented and the book is about 1,500 words long. Enjoy!
