

Practice From Awareness To Zing: A Coloring Book For All Ages

This is a coloring book about practice. Practice is like a magic wand. It takes every terrible first try and turns it into the start of something good - even great. All it takes to move from terrible to great is the willingness to practice and practice again. Very little of our life is a once and done experience. That is a good thing! Because the feeling we get when we have practiced long enough to see the magic start to move us from terrible first steps to better next tries to good attempts to even better attempts to great success - that feeling is beyond amazing. That feeling is what makes life the magical journey it is. So, be terrible - and then start practicing!
