

Whitewallsville

Roger Holland is a middle-aged man with above average visual abilities and an affliction for staring contests. Prior to his death, he had thrived as a successfully published author and a loving husband and father. However, when he comes to find that his, once doting, wife has found another man and his second, not so successful, novel is less than promising, Roger begins to fall apart. After a tragic accident, Roger is sent into a tailspin that drives him to end his life and wake up to a new one that begins inside of the mental health wing at Lincoln Memorial Hospital. Here, Roger meets Chester- a schizophrenic with a hatred for cats, and Oscar- a wise ex-stock broker who has failed in life and yet excels at board games. With the help of his fellow patients and the assistance of the great Dr. Calvin Bennett, Roger will face his demons and come to see the truth of why he chose to die and why he now must choose to live.
